Quality Control

The quality is core competence and development,we were established a complete Physics and Chemistry Lab with professional team. According to the requirement of clients, the Lab is able to make precise tests and certification for various performance test standard of the products.

Such as the required glossiness, boiling water resistance, and resistance to change of temperature can be ensured by the physical performance test. The required coating thickness , pencil hardness, grinding resistance, soil resistance can be ensured by the coating performance test. The bending strength, and impact strength can be analyzed by the mechanical property test. The acid resistance, alkali resistance, oil resistance and salt-spry resistance can be analyzed by the solvent resistance performance test. Such tests ensure that the various performance targets of the ALUSEA-Aluminum reach the requirements of industrial standards.
