OUR STORY

Proudly entering our 15th year, Enjoy Living presents Uyuni Lighting, the only comprehensive collection of more than one hundred luxury flameless candles in Australia and New Zealand. Launching a new curation of stunning shapes and profiles, and a price reduction across sixteen designs, including our entire collection of UV weather resistant outdoor candles, it's no wonder hotels, restaurants, event planners, retailers and the discerning homewares consumer asks for Uyuni by name.

Enjoy the journey

From the age of 13 our family dinners were often enhanced by candlelight; the mesmerising ambience inspiring a lifelong passion. This love affair continued, and in 1998, when I married David, our wedding was lit by an abundance of real candles burning. Keeping these as a memento of a magical night, they have never been re-lit since, forever capturing a moment in time. In December 2009, an associate from the USA, who was looking for a distributor for his brand Enjoy Lighting, sent us some samples of real wax, flameless candles. I remember thinking 'batteries up the bum of a candle...could never be as good as the real thing'.

As we had stopped using real candles when our son was born out of concern for his safety, I was keen to try them out. That first evening, we placed a couple of the flameless candles on our mantelpiece and set the timer to 6 hours. Many times throughout the evening, the gentle flickering of candlelight caught the corner of my eye, and I couldn't help thinking how they looked like real candles burning. Later that night I walked towards them to blow them out, and stopped in my tracks when I realised what I was doing. The very next night when I once again went to blow them out, I recognised they were truly something special. Soon after, we became the Australasian distributor. I've often thought it would have been so wonderful to have had these candles when we got married, as we could have continued using them night after night, fondly recalling memories of our wedding. And those midnight feeds could have been so much more nurturing and relaxing if only by candlelight, flameless of course.

In 2010, just a year later, we ended up owning the company, and commencing our manufacturing journey, now selling more than a million candles worldwide. In 2020, when Covid momentarily stopped us in our tracks, we took the opportunity to rebrand and step on the world stage as Enjoy Living, expanding into homewares and furniture.

As we continue to embrace our love and passion for interiors, our growing curation of Danish designed beautiful and functional bathroom, kitchen, living, and furniture pieces are showcased in a separate EKTA Living catalogue.

– Lisa Carrick, Founder and CEO, Enjoy Living

Lisa, a former Buyer and Business Manager for the Coles-Myer Group, with partner in life David, a former banker and director, bring you a curation of unique and stunningly functional pieces to truly inspire your space.

Making the everyday special

The rich, muted and textured tones of Hamptons Grey perfectly complement the earthy hues of Sandstone, which anchors the collection, bringing a worldly colour palette to styling. Truly reflective of a sophisticated yet casual lifestyle, these 'all season' colours will add visual interest without dominating the room, and early indicators show they are predicted to become classics.

Creative layering

Aesthetically pleasing, architecturally inspired, these shapes and textures bring balance and depth when layering. An alluring combination of heights and widths, the soft curve of the orb elegantly contrasts against the striking conical silhouettes, while the symmetry of the grooves in the column like ribbed pillars brings a sense of calm. Aptly named, this curation of perfect profiles always retain their shape, even when lit.

Uyuni Lighting flameless real wax candles are individually handcrafted using virgin paraffin wax. Because this is an organic material, it has properties that may cause your candle to slightly vary in colour depending on environment, temperature, and light. We do our very best to minimise inconsistencies, but naturally these may occur. We believe this makes each candle unique and more realistic.
